Via an associate of Ray Powers, here's info on FAA Job Opportunities:

"FAA controller positions are not available very often. Anyone with a child or grandchild in college this is a great backup plan. I would encourage any 18+ year old to complete the application, in most cases it takes two or three years after you pass the exam to be offered a permanent position. The average controller with three (3) years of service earns $100k."
